"WHEN A TEMPORARY LAYOFF IS NO LONGER TEMPORARY" BY ROSE KEITH, QC RE-PUBLISHED BY QUICKSCRIBE REPORTER

Harper Grey lawyer, Rose Keith, QC, recently published a Workplace Law Strategies blog post titled "When a Temporary Layoff is No Longer Temporary" which discusses how under the British Columbia Employment Standards Act when an employee's hours have been reduced to the point where they are earning 50% less than their usual earnings or less, they are considered to be laid off.

The post was picked up and re-published in the June 2020 edition of the Quickscribe Reporter. View it here.
