WORKPLACE LAW STRATEGIES BLOG: BC EMPLOYEES RECEIVE 3 HOURS PAID TIME FOR VACCINATION

In his most recent Workplace Law Strategies Blog post, Harper Grey lawyer, Scott Marcinkow, discusses the BC government announcement made on April 28, which makes it easier for individuals to get vaccinated by amending the Employment Standards Act. The Act now requires employers to provide up to 3 hours of paid time off for employees to get vaccinated. This change is retroactive to April 19, 2021.
